Bibliography

Hans Neurath
The Bial-Neurath Family

Most of the preceding account has been derived from various papers written by Hans Neurath himself. This was supported by a biographical memoir written on behalf of the National Academy of Sciences by his friends and colleagues Edmond H. Fischer and Earl W. Davie as well as by a biographical essay written by James Travis on the occasion of Hans Neurath's 90th birthday.

The historical context regarding Austria was largely provided by the following sources:
